1 Introduction - What do I need to know?

1.1 What is SESAR?

The Single European Sky Air Traffic Management Research and Development ("SESAR") project aims to modernise the air traffic management (ATM) in Europe and represents the technological pillar of the Single European Sky (SES). It aims to provide the European Union with a high performance air traffic control infrastructure, which will enable the safe and environmentally friendly development of air transport.

1.2 What is the SESAR Young Scientist Award?

The SESAR Young Scientist Award 2024 (YSA 2024) aims to recognise young scientists with high potential, contributing to the scientific research in the field of air traffic management and aviation (including the domains covered by the nine SESAR 3 JU flagships described in Strategic Research and Innovation Agenda (SRIA)). In addition, the award also provides a mechanism for further professional development.

The SESAR Young Scientist Award is a financial reward or "Prize" for the individual scientific achievements. It will be awarded following a public contest.

The SESAR Young Scientist Award 2024 is published and managed by the SESAR 3 Joint Undertaking (hereafter referred to as the “SESAR 3 JU”) and the result will be announced at its SESAR Innovation Days (SIDs) event, planned in Rome, 11-15 November 2024, which is the main forum for dissemination of SESAR Innovative Research results and for interaction with the wider ATM research community and industry representatives.

NB: the present Contest is NOT a PhD or similar study funding programme.

Applicants can apply to one of the following two categories:
- PhD; or
- Student.

The (up to) three short-listed Applicants for each category will be invited to join the SESAR Innovation Days 2024, where the winner of each category will be publicly announced.

- The winner of the PhD category will receive a prize of EUR 10,000.
- The winner of the Student category will receive a prize of EUR 5,000.

The (up to) three short-listed Applicants for each category will receive:
- a symbolic trophy,
- the opportunity to present their research at certain high profile SESAR events;
- the opportunity to have their work publicised via the SESAR 3 JU communication channels; and
- a written interview and article spotlighting them and their research to be posted on the SESAR 3 JU e-news and social media.
